The residence halls, administration/classroom building, library, student recreation center and cafeteria are of masonry construction and have minimal structural vulnerability to fire. The Early Childhood Education building and Art Building are of frame construction but are equipped with two exits each, are single story, and have low traffic patterns. All buildings are equipped with multi-purpose dry chemical fire extinguishers, which are inspected semi-annually. Additionally, the Slade Martin Hall is equipped with a pull-down fire alarm.

In the event of a fire, move immediately to the nearest exit. Notify public safety, campus officials, and/or call 911 immediately. Residence hall directors, faculty members or other staff present in the buildings that are involved in a fire should immediately verify the presence and safety of all persons known to be in the building. In no instance should students or staff persons re-enter a burning building. (Exit plans attached)

Hurricane/Tornado Plan:

Rock Hill is situated three hours from the coast and is in no usual danger from hurricanes. However, occasionally a particularly severe storm may pose some level of threat to the campus. In the event of a Hurricane Warning/Tornado Watch, classes and other activities are immediately cancelled. If it is safe to do so, all students and all campus personnel are to gather in the J. W. Martin Gymnasium as quickly as possible.

Those who are unable to make it to the J. W. Martin Gymnasium should get to a safe place away from windows and glass doors until given an "all clear" signal. The Facilities Department will give the "all clear" command once the civil defense horn signals. The individuals who are giving directives in their respective buildings should not end the state of emergency until they hear from someone in the Facilities Department.

Those in the residence halls should take a pillow (to cover one's face) into the hallway designated by the Residence Life Director and/or Staff member and lie on the floor. Those in the Trio building should gather in the restroom. Those in the Snipes Student Center should gather in the corridor away from windows. Those in the New Millennium Café should gather in the kitchen area behind the gray wall away from windows. Those in the Library should gather in the corridor hallway near the President's office away from windows.

In the event the campus must be evacuated to higher ground, faculty, staff, and students will be transported to New Mt. Olivet AME Zion Church at 527 Dave Lyle Blvd S, Rock Hill, SC 29730.

Clinton College does not currently house an infirmary on campus. In the event of a medical emergency, call 911 and contact the office of Student Development Counselor (8:30 a.m. – 4:30 p.m.) or the residence director if the emergency is after hours. If you are unable to get in contact, locate the nearest faculty or staff member. Do not move the injured or unconscious person. Stay with the injured or sick person until the ambulance arrives.

Emergency Planning Information – Catawba Nuclear Station

Catawba Nuclear Station is located in Lake Wyle in York County, SC. The lake, created in 1904, is the oldest lake on the Catawba River, and provide cooling water for both Catawba Nuclear Station and Allen Steam Station.

Catawba Nuclear Station is jointly owned by North Carolina Municipal Power Agency Number One, North Carolina Electric Membership Corporation, Piedmont Municipal Power Agency and Duke Energy.

Duke Power nuclear power plants operate at a very high level of security every day. Catawba Nuclear Station was designed and built with redundant safety systems and multiple barriers to protect the public, plant workers and the environment.

To alert people outdoors, emergency sirens will sound repeatedly to tell you of a problem. If you hear a siren, immediately tune your radio or television to a local primary station. If necessary, students, faculty, and staff will go to the nearest elementary school.

Local stations will carry emergency alert messages. Please follow the instructions given on the radio or television.

Emergency Notification Safety Information

Sirens are the primary outdoor warning system for alerting the public of an emergency. In the event of an emergency at the power plant, Duke Energy would immediately notify federal, state and local authorities. Authorities could activate pole-mounted sirens located throughout the plant's 10-mile emergency planning zone. Hearing a siren does not mean you should evacuate it could be a test. Tests are announced to the public in advance. Tune in to a local emergency alert system television or radio. Follow the instructions provided by the emergency management officials until the emergency is over.

If there is an emergency at the nuclear plant, state and local officials would provide information about what actions to take.

- Go inside/Stay inside

If there is an emergency at the plant with the possibility of a release of radiation, you may be instructed to shelter in place.

- Go indoors and close all windows and doors. Turn off fans, heating and air conditioning that requires outside air. Close all intakes.
- The food, water and milk supplies inside buildings are safe to eat/drink.
- Go to a room or basement with no or few windows.
- Remain inside, stay tuned to the radio/TV stations
- Send brief text messages – they often get through when networks are overwhelmed.
- Limit non-emergency calls
- If you must go outside, place a cloth over your nose and mouth

Under certain circumstances, people in specific zones might be asked to evacuate.

Classroom Instructions during COVID-19

Online Classes

Classes for the fall semester will be exclusively online. In August, we launched two different remote learning programs.

Bear Learning

Bridging Excellence and Remote (BEAR) Learning is our regular 15-week courses, typically offered face-to-face on campus, but will be taught virtually in fall 2020, using the learning management system BrightSpace.

Clinton Global

Clinton Global is a fast-paced, intensive online program for highly motivated adult learners, who will take one five-week course at a time and complete four courses each semester and one in the summer. Students earn an associate degree in Business Administration or Religious Studies in 2 ½ years and can continue in the program to complete a bachelor's degree.

Athletics

The health and safety of our coaches, athletic staff, student-athletes, fans, and supporters remain the priority of our Athletic Department. It is for this reason, that Clinton College will suspend all basketball competition, drumline, and cheerleading activities for the Fall 2020 semester.

If it is determined by Clinton's Executive Leadership, based upon CDC guidelines, that it is safe to return to campus in January 2021, it is our hope that we will be able to return to campus and begin the 2021 basketball season and resume all athletically related activities. However, it should be reiterated that the welfare of our student-athletes will remain the primary factor in all Clinton College operational decisions. The standards for canceling, and resuming operations within Athletics, reflect the position of our President Dr. Lester A. McCorn, and the position of our governing athletic conference the USCAA.

For updates within Athletics please visit our Golden Bear website- www.clintongoldenbears.com

Events

On-campus events for the 2020-2021 school year have been either canceled or moved to a virtual space. Check the calendar periodically for updates on events.

Travel Restrictions

All work-related travel by all faculty, staff, or students on behalf of Clinton College is suspended until further notice. Any college-related travel should not be planned or scheduled at this time. We encourage everyone to explore alternative virtual options for collaboration and engagement.
